
Knowsley Libraries Big Lock In

Hi All

While we're all still having to adjust and stay safe at this worrying time, we thought we'd bring you another issue of Knowsley Libraries Big Lock In. Lots of us are missing our family, friends and especially going out to our favourite places like the Library ☺ We decided that we'd put together this little newsletter with lots of bits and bobs in such as recipes, book recommendations, and we've even included a quiz to help ease the boredom.

So, a little bit of homework for you while you're unable to go out and about. I was wondering if you'd share with us 'What You're Reading in Lockdown', or your favourite book/author that you'd like to recommend to others.

I've asked friends, family and colleagues to share with us what they're reading and it's quite a mix!

What are people reading?

Review by Judith Dunn, A member of Prescott Reading Group

The Familiars by Stacey Hall

It is a historic fiction set in Lancashire at the time of the Pendle Witch trials. The author uses the historic timeline and many real individuals, but the story is fictional. Its main location is Gawthorpe Hall, where through the eyes of its mistress, Fleetwood, the story is told.

She is desperate for a successful pregnancy and employs Alice Gray to help her achieve this, against her family's wishes. As the story unfolds, she supports Alice who is accused of witchcraft and tries to clear her name.

Outside the main story you learn of both girl's upbringing and their role in society. You are left wanting to know more about that time in history.

The Catch by T.M. Logan

Reviewed by Aimee, Library Assistant

She says he's perfect. I know he's lying . . .

He caught me watching, and our eyes met. That was when it hit me.

There was something not quite right about my daughter's new boyfriend . . .

The doting father

Ed finally meets his daughter's boyfriend for the first time. Smart, successful and handsome, Ryan appears to be a real catch. Then Abbie announces their plan to get married.

The perfect fiancé

There's just one problem. Ed thinks Ryan is lying to them

Who would you believe?

All of Ed's instincts tell him his daughter is in terrible danger - but no-one else can see it.

With the wedding date approaching fast, Ed sets out to uncover Ryan's secrets, before it's too late.....

"After reading The Holiday last year I couldn't wait to read the next book by T.M. Logan and I wasn't disappointed!

This tells the story of Ed the father of Abbie who has just got engaged, however Ed doesn't trust the new man in his daughter's life and can't put his finger on why...Or is he just being an over productive dad?

This is such an easy thriller to get in too! It's written from the perspective mainly of the dad, however the other three main characters also lead some episodes. I read it in 2 days, I would definitely recommend it to anyone who is a fan of Lisa Jewell, Shari Lapena or Louise Candlish"

Recipe of the Week:

I'd like to share some easy to follow and lovely to eat recipes from family, friends and colleagues.

Vegetable Pasta Bake

Provided by Joe - Library Advisor

Unfortunately I can't take credit for this, it's all down to BBC Recipes. I have been trying to have some meat free days during the week, so this is one of my favourite things to cook. It's really easy to follow and incredibly tasty. If there is anyone reading this who isn't very confident in the kitchen, this is a recipe for you. If I can manage to make a success from it, I have no doubt you'll be able to as well!

Here is a link to the recipe, it has all the ingredients and a step by step guide on how to knock this dish up: https://www.bbc.co.uk/food/recipes/vegetable_pasta_bake_15082

Meet the Staff: What are we doing during Lockdown?

Hi, I'm Michele, that is Michele with one L as I am known, to differentiate me from the lovely Michelle at Huyton Library.

As I am a Casual Librarian, I am lucky to be able to work in all the five Knowsley Libraries. I like them all equally, they are all clean, the staff are all friendly, the customers are a delight and the book selections are the best in the country in my humble opinion. I can say this as I always drop into libraries on my travels and see what sort of books they have and how the library feels.

I retired eighteen months ago, and I was so fortunate to be offered a part-time job that I love and fits around my family life.

Unfortunately, because I was born with a lung syndrome, when Lockdown came, I was put into the 'extremely vulnerable' group and told to shield by letter. It was a shock and I felt angry at first. After all, I have always been active and in the last five years

I have completed the Hadrian's Wall Path and the Anglesey Sea Coastal Path. My friends wanted me to come out 'to play' - meaning daily walk or have a chat and some were quite put out when I said I couldn't and would have to speak to them from an upstairs window! I missed my Sunday service seeing all the churches were closed so I found a daily service at Parish of St Catherine of Alexandria, Lydiate. It gives me a structure to my day, something to look forward to and has deepened my faith. The live broadcasts have given me a sense of community and a journey through the Bible liturgies. The singing and the homilies are excellent. The services have been added to and there have been live bake offs, live Hymnathon and then little live comedy sketches, all posted on Facebook.

Two other live on-line activities I have taken part in are the twice weekly Reader sessions where they read a poem or short story and you can comment as it is discussed live. I also have taken part in three online literary festivals which have been excellent, some of my favourite authors like Alexander McCall Smith, Victoria Hislop and Ann Cleeves have featured. Makes up partly for all those literature festivals I have missed.

At the beginning of lockdown, I started a reading marathon. I decided to read classics in the garden whilst sunbathing and it meant I could concentrate out there. I started with Daniel Deronda, took my four weeks, then onto The Mill on the Floss, Janet's Repentance, The Lifted Veil and Agnes Grey. I read my library books and lighter novels inside the house, so I had quite a few books on the go at once.

I have been re-reading Middlemarch and making notes with a view to writing A Companion Reader to the book as a number of friends have said it is too long and difficult for them to read alone. My Reader Group got up to Chapter 72 before lockdown and that took us 15 months. Books have been a lifeline to me, they have taken me to so many places, so many situations I have experienced and so many characters I have met. Books have been my friends! When I finished Daniel Deronda, I felt bereft! The characters had become part of my life for those 4 weeks.

My own books that I read and finished I decided to put out on a piece of lawn at the side of the house and people could help themselves. It was a great success and I relieved my bookcases of twenty plus books which made my husband very happy.

When we went into Lockdown the garden was just beginning to show signs of Spring, then the buds broke into flower and the leaves came. The bees, birds and butterflies seemed to like our garden and the excellent weather certainly made Lockdown easier. However, it was tainted by intrusive thoughts, that while I was safe and being shielded, other essential people were working so hard, people were dying, and I couldn't do anything to help.

A few weeks ago, we were told we could go for a walk so I have been walking to the local parks for my exercise. It still feels strange to be out as if you not quite part of society yet. I can't wait to go out and do my own shopping, go and see my grandchildren and get back hopefully to the libraries to see all the staff and customers, once again!

Podcast of the Week:

Desert Island Discs BBC Radio 4

While I'm sure a lot of you already listen to this programme, I've found the online library a real treat during lockdown. It has new episodes as well as a catalogue of classic episodes that go back to 1942.

Guests are invited to imagine themselves cast away on a desert island, and choose eight recordings to take with them. The recordings are played and are accompanied with stories and anecdotes from the guests as to why they have picked each piece of music.

Album of the Week:

Hunky Dory by David Bowie recommended by Joe

Glastonbury should have taken place last week and you might have noticed a lot of Glastonbury sets on the BBC channels over the weekend. On Sunday night they broadcast David Bowie's headline set from 2000 and it was a wonderful escape from everything that is going on. It was hard to pick which Bowie album to recommend, he has an almost unrivalled back catalogue, but I decided to go for Hunk Dory. For me, this is the album in which Bowie becomes Bowie. He's not following trends, he's setting them.

Here is Bowie at Glastonbury 2000, performing the first track from the album:

Films of the Week:

Monday: 12 Years a Slave

9pm Film 4 (Freeview 14, Freesat 300, Sky 313, Virgin 428)

A free black man living in pre-Civil War New York is abducted and sold into slavery. He spends the next 12 years struggling to survive and maintain his dignity in the face of brutal treatment, while clinging to a desperate hope that he can return to his family. Oscar-winning historical drama starring Chiwetel Ejiofor, Michael Fassbender, Benedict Cumberbatch, Lupita Nyong'o.

Tuesday: Creed

9pm 5Star (Freeview 30, Freesat 131, Sky 128, Virgin 151)

The son of a heavyweight boxer who died in the ring seeks to follow in the footsteps of the father he never knew. He goes in search of his father's old rival-turned-best friend Rocky Balboa, who agrees to train the young fighter for a shot at the title-but the ageing champ is facing challenges of his own. Starring Michael B Jordan and Sylvester Stallone, reprising his role from the Rocky movies.

Wednesday: Safe House

10.35pm ITV4 (Freeview 24, Freesat 117, Sky 120, Virgin 118)

A CIA agent stationed in South Africa is tasked with looking after a criminal locked in a safe house. When the house attacked, the agent must flee with the criminal in tow. Starring Denzel Washington and Ryan Reynolds.

Thursday: High Rise

11.15pm Film 4 (Freeview 14, Freesat 300, Sky 313, Virgin 428)

Based on JG Ballard's novel. A doctor secures himself a new home in a luxurious apartment complex, where residents are able to shut out the rest of the world. As society begins to break down in the face of failing infrastructure, tension erupts between residents of different floors, leading to a literal class war. Starring Tom Hiddleston, Jeremy Irons and Sienna Miller.

Friday: 3:10 to Yuma
10.45pm BBC1

2007 remake of the 1957 classic western. Civil War veteran and small-time rancher Dan Evans decides to escort Ben Wade, an outlaw, for a paltry sum of 200 dollars to regain his lost honour and retrieve his barn from Glen Hollander. Starring Christian Bale.

If you'd like to share your thoughts on any of the films, we'd love to hear from you. Drop us an email and let us know what you think! yourlibrary@knowsley.gov.uk

Alan Bennett's Talking Heads

New versions of Alan Bennett's much loved-monologues are being shown on the BBC throughout the week. They are available on BBC iPlayer and tonight's episode on BBC1 at 9pm (29/06/20) stars our very own Jodie Comer.

He's keeping kids fit and healthy and lots of the parents are joining in too, looks like lots of fun.

Craft Time

Paper plate frog

This is a very easy frog craft for you to make.

All you will need: -

White paper plates, Green paint

Black, white, red and green thin card, Scissors

Pencil, Paintbrush

Glue, Black marker pen

- Paint green onto one of the paper plates and leave to dry
- Print out the free template <https://www.firefliesandmudpies.com/wp-content/uploads/Paper-Plate-Frog-Template.pdf>
- Trace the large circles onto your white card and the small circles and frog's mouth onto black card

- Glue the frog's eyes and mouth to the green paper plate
- Trace your child's hands onto the green card
- Cut them out and glue to the back of the plate
- Cut a 1-inch strip of red paper and wrap in around a pencil to curl it
- Glue the red paper to the frog's mouth to give your frog a tongue
- Lastly, use the black marker pen to draw 2 round nostrils under the frog's eyes.

Book Recommendations/Reviews

The Snake Who Came to Stay by Julia Donaldson

Polly has set up a pets' holiday home for the summer and with a house full of greedy guinea pigs, pesky parrots and slithering snakes, Mum is getting more fed up by the day! Especially when Doris the snake goes missing...Can Polly find Doris before the snake finds the guinea pigs?

Reviewed by Molly age 6

This book is about a girl called Polly who loved snakes and wanted one and finally she got one called Doris from one of her friends. Her friend said, "Doris has a heater. But keep her in the hottest room the house." Polly lost the snake, and someone saw the snake's skin but it took a long time to find Doris. My favourite person is Polly. Her best friend is Katy. I like Polly because she is nice. When she went to Katy's house the guinea pigs went, "Oooooeek!" I think that was funny!

The Dreamsnatcher

by Abi Elphinstone

Twelve-year-old Moll Pecksniff wakes one night in the middle of the forest, lured there by a recurring nightmare - the one with the drums and the rattles and the masks. The Dreamsnatcher is waiting. He has already taken her dreams and now he wants her life.

Because Moll is more important than she knows...

The Oracle Bones foretold that she and Gryff, a wildcat that has always been by her side, are the only ones who can fight back against the Dreamsnatcher's dark magic. Suddenly everything is at stake, and Moll is drawn into a world full of secrets, magic and adventure.

Reviewed by Hugo age 10

This 'fast paced and full of charm' action-packed thriller is an outstanding debut from Abi Elphinstone. I think it is packed with suspense, adventure and once you have picked up the book there is no letting go of it.

Moll is a brave young girl who is determined to fight off the Dreamsnatcher and with the help of Gryff, a wildcat always by Moll's side, she can do what the Oracle Bones have foretold.

I could not choose a favourite part as I enjoyed the whole book. I couldn't put it down.
